

Civil Enforcement Penalty Actions

June 4, 2015 1:30-5:00

Somerset County Police Academy

This half-day seminar will review the civil penalty enforcement actions which are available to all agencies including, health, animal control and code enforcement. Topics include how to conduct the court procedures in Municipal Court and what pleadings are necessary. Civil penalty enforcement actions provide an enforcement opportunity which can generate substantial revenues. This seminar is not just for the field agents but also for supervisors department heads, and governing body members to better understand the enforcement and revenue opportunities of Civil penalty enforcement.

The instructor Michael S. Richmond Esq. served as a Municipal Prosecutor for more than 23 years and has also represented hundreds of defendants in Municipal Court as a private counsel and Public Defender, Mr. Richmond is one of the foremost practitioners of Municipal Court practice. The reputation has been enhanced with the publication of the book Municipal Court Handbook by Gann Law Books.

The course will be held on June 4, 2015, 1:30 to 5:00 PM at the Somerset County Police Academy, 402 Roycefield Road, Hillsborough, NJ 08844. The cost of the course is $89.00 per person. 3.5 CEU's will be awarded
